Director of Prisons
Is Shot Down in St.
Petersburg.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 28, 7:17 p. m.—General Maximoffsky, director of the department of prisons of the Ministry of the Interior, was shot and killed today. The general was the first responsible official connected with the Russian prison, and it is supposed that this was the reason he was selected for assassination by the terrorists.

DRINK WINE FOR STOMACH'S SAKE SAYS DOCTOR IN GIVING INSTRUCTION TO FRESHMEN

BERKELEY, Oct. 28.—The Biblical injunction to "take a little wine for your stomach's sake and your off infirmities" has found an ardent and eloquent exponent in Dr. Allen F. Gillman, instructor in hygiene in the University of California. In the course of his remarks to his freshmen class in hygiene he advised his students that a little alcoholic refreshment occasionally was necessary to a person leading a sedentary life, for the purpose of digesting his food. CRISIS IS NOW PAST SAY THESE Men of Finance in Interviews Today

Here are some excerpts from views of the big financiers today:
WILLIAM NASH, president of the Corn Exchange: "I feel happy in view of the present aspect of this crisis."
A. BARTON HEPBURN, president Chase National Bank: "The use of clearing house certificates cannot be avoided. We need instant Congressional action on this matter."
GUSTAV H. SCHWAB: "In my opinion we have seen the worst of the crisis."
JOHN ARBUCKLE, coffee king: "The worst is over."
ROBERT J. HOQUET, silk merchant and banker: "The financial cyclone has spent its force."
CORNELIUS N. BLISS, wholesale dry goods merchant: "The financial situation is well in hand now."

Millionaire Lumberman Declares That After Each Quarrel He Would Coax Woman to Kiss and Make Up.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—The cross-examination of William H. Talbot, who is suing his wife for a divorce, occupied the entire morning session in Judge Seawell's court today. The responses given by the witness to the majority of the questions propounded by Attorney Shortridge, seemed to favor the plaintiff's side of the case more than that of the defendant. Mr. Talbot testified that all his married life he has humored his wife, and that whenever she was at odds with him he did his best to coax her to kiss and make up.

The session this morning began with the introduction of a letter received by Mr. Talbot at 11:30 p. m., July 27, 1901. It was shoved under his door at the Redwood City home, and requested that he allow his wife to go away for a change to the southern part of the State. In response to questions the witness stated that he did not want his wife to go at this time, and did his best to prevent it. Further testimony brought out the fact that whenever there was any trouble between the husband and wife, Mrs. Talbot always wanted to go away to the country.

INSANITY DEFENSE OF OLIVE SCULLY

Judge Ellsworth's courtroom was packed to the doors this morning when the case of Olive Scully for the murder of Deputy County Clerk James Glover was called. The defense, in the hands of Attorneys Allen, Walsh and Creeley, devoted the entire forenoon in trying to prove that the woman was insane when the deed was committed. Witnesses were introduced showing the heavy excitement under which Miss Scully has labored since the vitriol throwing. Jailer Shannon of the city jail, Miss Lillie Scully, a sister of the defendant, Mrs. Hattie White, matron of the county jail, and members of the family were called to corroborate the defense in the insanity plea. District Attorney Everett Brown is making a masterly effort for the people to refute the claims of the defense. Miss Scully, as usual, sat with her head lowered and a handkerchief held to her face to hide her from all curious spectators. At no time did she raise her head and throughout the proceedings she

SURVIVORS OF THE WRECKED Whaler "Carrie and Annie" Brought to Port.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—Wrecked upon the rocky coast of Siberia during a hurricane on August 30, Captain Thomas and thirteen members of the crew of the American whaling schooner Carrie and Annie were forced to undergo hardships which almost resulted in their deaths during a lengthy stay upon the bleak stretch of shore near Shimentarski bay until finally a rescue was effected by the Russian transport Litzun, in command of Captain Nicolas Flg., in the middle of September. The shipwrecked men reached this port today on the steamer Asia. They speak in the highest terms of their treatment on the transport and by the people of Vladivostok, where they were taken. During their stay at Shantarski bay they subsisted on salmon which they killed with sticks. They had given up all hope of rescue when the Litzun came to their aid.

Brilliant Newspaperman Is Stricken
by Apoplexy and Passes Away.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—John P. Barrett, news editor of the San Francisco Examiner, and one of the widest known and most capable of newspapermen in the United States, died suddenly shortly after 1 o'clock today. He was seized with a stroke of apoplexy at Van Ness avenue and Eddy street. He was taken to his home on Fell street in an automobile and three physicians were summoned. Their efforts were unavailing. A widow and little daughter survive him.

LONERGAN, ON STAND AT FORD TRIAL, NOW CHANGES HIS FORMER TESTIMONY

Boddler, Under Grilling Fire of Rogers, Gives Evidence

at Previous Trial.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—Thomas Lonergan, ex-baker and ex-boddler, plucked to the witness stand this morning in the trial of Tirry L. Ford, for the alleged bribery of former Supervisor Phillips. The grafter's little blue eyes, one of which was surrounded by a large black ring, where it had encountered an obstruction, gazed at the floor for most part. Heney and Rogers were both merrily laughing at the boddler frequently wiping his forehead dry of the perspiration that gathered there. Heney sprang one surprise by stating that the ordinance for an oil extension plant by which Lonergan had been trapped at Roy's house, had been drawn up in his (Heney's) office, and that the first letters of the title formed the word "fake." Heney also stated that this ordinance was introduced by Dr. Boxton. This ordinance, however, had no material bearing on the case, merely illustrating the methods used by the prosecution. Three mint and sub-treasury officials were called to the stand. Nathan Seely, formerly assistant cashier of the relief fund, was first called. His evidence was of an unimportant character, merely dealing with the withdrawal by Ford of the various parts of the $200,000. He was followed by Thomas Burns, cashier of (Continued on Page 3.)

Hesitate to Bury Man Who Once

Coffin.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28.—A. B. Cameron, who has told an occasional friend that his true name and title is Archibald, Baron Cameron, Lord Killow, died at his home at 709 North Avenue Sixty-four tonight.

At least, he is supposed to have died, but having once lain in a state of suspended animation for three days, the last day being spent in the coffin in which he was to have been buried, every precaution is being taken to ascertain for certain that he is dead.

BORN IN ONTARIO.
Cameron was 59 years of age, and was born in Collingwood, Ontario. His father established the Ontario Ship Yards Company, builders of St. Lawrence river boats and barges.

Cameron was considered a rich man. He was a bachelor and was of an artistic temperament, with no mean ability at painting.

Miss Florine Hyer of 621 North Avenue Sixty-four, the well known painter of flowers, and other friends, were with Cameron when the end came unexpectedly last night.

MAGNIFICENT PIANO STOCK SACRIFICED

Eilers Music Co. Place Exhibition Pianos on Sale

First 73 Buyers to Get Advantage of Newspaper Advertising Test

It is safe to say that never before have Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda people had a more generous piano buying opportunity than now. The fine new stock of pianos intended for the San Francisco store of Eilers Music Co. has been put on sale at greatly sacrificed prices.

Unable to secure possession of their new building, which has been long delayed in construction, these pianos, which would have constituted one of the finest stocks ever brought to San Francisco, are being sold at prices below what the ordinary dealer pays for them.

A $2,000 stock, embracing some of the finest pianos known to the piano maker's art, will be sold for a trifle over $1,000 net to piano buyers, a saving of one-third of the price of any piano or organ that may be selected. It is an opportunity that comes but once in a lifetime.

Newspaper Advertising Test

In getting rid of these pianos at remarkably reduced prices we propose to make it the means of obtaining advertising information that will be of great value to us in future. In order that we may test the circulation and advertising value of the various newspapers we have arranged for an allowance of $67.50 on the first 73 pianos sold.

In any one of the Sunday papers you will find an advertising test coupon. Cut out this coupon, present it to any one of the Eilers salesrooms in San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, Stockton, San Jose or Reno, and it will be accepted the same as $67.50 cash toward the purchase of any one of these pianos. In addition to the reduced prices above referred to.

But remember, only 73 of these coupons will be accepted, and that you will have to come early to be one of the fortunate ones. It is an unprecedented offer, but it will be valuable in showing us in future where we can most profitably advertise.

These unheard of reductions in prices will apply to every new piano in our stock, including such well-known makes of pianos as the Hazelton, the Decker, Hallett & Paine, Kimball, Hobart, M. Cable, Lester, Autopiano and more than a score of others.

How to Buy a Piano

To thoroughly appreciate what piano values we are now offering, the purchaser should first make an examination of pianos in other Oakland piano stores, so that he may be in a position to compare values. Many of the best judges of piano values, who have made a careful examination of pianos in other Oakland stores during the past week, testified to their appreciation of our remarkable price reductions by buying at the Eilers stores, and mail orders have been unusual in their number.

If you want the highest grade upright piano in the latest cabinet upright grand style it will be unnecessary for you to pay $550 or $600 to get it—$338, $313, $312 and $368 will buy it.

If you have contemplated putting $250 into the purchase of a piano you can now have one and get it for $124. Without doubt this is the broadest and most liberal proposition ever made by a piano house on the Pacific coast, and the person taking advantage of it will be fortunate indeed.

The Eilers Guarantee

Every piano sold, whether in the city or outside, carries with it the famous Eilers Guarantee, which guarantees your money back if you are not satisfied. We will ship a piano to your home without a cent of expense on your part in case you decide it is not thoroughly satisfactory.

Remember that this remarkable sale closes on the night of November 1. All our stores will be open every evening from 6 o'clock to 10 o'clock. 1005 Clay street, Oakland; Shattuck avenue and Bancroft way, Berkeley.

N. S. G. W. UNITE IN MEMORIAL

Oakland and Berkeley Parlor
Combine Program at First Unitarian Church.

The Oakland and Berkeley parlors of the Native Sons of the Golden West held combined memorial services in the First Unitarian Church yesterday.

Piedmont Parlor No. 120, Athens Parlor No. 195, and Berkeley Parlor No. 210 united in the service, as each of these parlors has lost members during the past year.

Those who have died in the last twelve months, and for whom the memorial services were held, were: John W. Bankhead Jr. of Piedmont parlor; John Burke and Louis Drussell of Athens parlor, and Donald J. Wehe and Walter J. Grant of Berkeley parlor.

EDITOR MAKES ADDRESS.
The eulogy to the departed was delivered by Rush Bronson of Los Angeles, editor and owner of the "Grizzly Bear," the official paper of the order. Assistant District Attorney W. F. L. Hynes gave the response. The opening remarks were made by Superior Judge William H. Wase, followed by the invocation by Rev. William Day Simonds, pastor of the church.

PROGRAM.
The program was as follows: Prelude, "Funeral March" (Chopin); Hymn: Invocation, the Rev. William Day Simonds, pastor of the First Unitarian Church; opening remarks, Judge W. H. Wase; Berkeley quartet, "Interpreting" (Fleming); C. E. Sabore, C. E. Mills, T. J. Smith and J. L. Hynes; soprano solo, "Oh Devine Redeemer" (Gounod); Miss Clara Altkins; violin solo, "Berg's" (Mancini); violin and piano, response, W. H. L. Hynes; bass solo, "From the Depths" (Campanini); Frank Pigeon; solo, Rush Bronson; tenor solo, "Holy City" (Adams); E. James Flinn; soprano solo, "Ave Marie" (Luzzi); Miss Clara Altkins; Berkeley quartet, "Oh Thou Come Home Where Goodness Flows" (benediction, the Rev. Father J. Payson; song, postlude, "Ab-solution" (Bizet).

MEMORIAL COMMITTEE.
The services were in charge of the following members of the order, composing a memorial committee: Dr. F. C. Kleeman, chairman; James Barry, secretary; R. D. Wilson, E. M. Morris, Jesse Church of Oakland Parlor No. 50; P. M. Hamb, C. A. Moreno and James Barry of Piedmont Parlor No. 120; C. E. Brown, W. L. Denio and J. C. Jordan of Brooklyn Parlor No. 151; Dr. F. C. Kleeman, H. H. Reavis and J. K. Flynn of Athens Parlor No. 195; Dr. C. A. Meek, H. N. Hayward and Clyde E. Abbott of Berkeley Parlor No. 210.

RAISE MONEY TO ADVERTISE

Oakland Merchants Will Boost
the City in the East.

Reports received and other indications have greatly gratified the members of the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce in considering the result of their early efforts in the movement to have every one of them advertise the city of Oakland. It was at first expected that some tedious weeks would first have to be spent in convincing the movement and securing for it the proper support. But with the presentation of the scheme that has been planned for the crusade of conversion into other cities, States and sections, the merchants of the city have shown in the test that has been made, that the are in hearty accord with the movement and that the backing of every one of them can be counted upon. A representative of the Chamber of Commerce, delegated by President Eugene P. Penland, for W. E. Gibson, is at present engaged in the work of calling upon and interviewing each business man, presenting to him and large property owner in the city, the already well signed subscription list for signatures. The fund is daily growing. Monthly subscriptions of substantial sizes are being pledged and what is more gratifying, everyone who has been approached thus far has given his hearty endorsement to the proposition. At the Chamber of Commerce there is evidence to show that the spirit of concerted action for the betterment of conditions that are now rapidly improving is on and that from this time every advantage will be taken of the chance that at last has been given to the city in advance of her sister coast cities.

TO BE ADVERTISED.
Oakland is to be effectively advertised, through the medium of the big Eastern magazines and farmers' and trade journals with circulation of upwards of one million, the advantages of the city will be shown in every corner of the United States. For this advertising, both same and fantastic, will be adopted. The ultimate result that will be accomplished will be to have Oakland talked about. Those who are best active in the work argue that Oakland must no longer tolerate the second-grade-San Francisco position that she has held until recently, much to its disadvantage. They claim that a city of 250,000 inhabitants, just beginning to grow, is the city to be reckoned with and with these ideas firmly fixed they have taken up the work which they hope will be taken up by everybody in the city. When it's for Oakland, whatever it is, it's right. That's the slogan they have chosen under which to begin the crusade, and it expresses the feeling that must spread. They want to make the idea a contention so that everybody in the city will become infected with the "boost" germ. In a movement such as has been started, the help of everyone is required. Every boost sends the city along a little distance. Every good thing that is said of the town means some new person as a resident. If it is said properly, and every new resident means more business; more business means more money; more money means more activity; more activity means more new business streets; more new business streets mean more new buildings; more new buildings mean more work, and then everyone will be happy. The scheme is one that works itself out.

TO BOOST.
The city has gone along so remarkably irrespective of politics, the money market and the fact that has been made against it, that everyone is feeling good. When a person is feeling good it is easy to boost.

It is hoped that within forty days all of the money for the advertising purchased by the Chamber of Commerce has been a generous one and from now on it will be only a matter of seeing the met who are expected to contribute and signatures to the list will be easily forthcoming.

Every avenue through which money can be obtained will be tapped. It is a movement for the general good of the city. There can be no individual gain. Everyone will be benefited.

More people for Oakland; that's more business. Let Oakland be known everywhere; that's more people for the town. More money; that's more advertising.

FORM EXPEDITION TO SEIZE TIBURON ISLAND

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 28.—A report is current that an expedition is being organized here for the purpose of taking possession of Tiburon Island in the interest of its present owner, Mrs. Guadalupe Andrade Blinn, widow of General Andrade, who died recently in Los Angeles. General Andrade claimed ownership of the island and ten years ago made a fruitless attempt to take possession of it.

RYAN RESTS WHILE FOLLOWERS REPORT SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN 'Rough Riders' Who Have Been Canvassing the Various Districts Declare Republican Candidate's Victory Now Fully Assured.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—Daniel A. Ryan rested yesterday. Arrangements had been made for him at Republican headquarters to visit Ingleside Courthouse Park during the noon hour and to address a meeting of Rough Riders at Washington Hall in the afternoon, but he had gone through a tremendous week of campaigning and he needed rest before attacking the last week of the campaign. So he did not stir from the house all day.

Andrew H. Porter, organizer of the Rough Riders and shipbuilders' union, and James Brennan, a member of the Young Men's Ryan Non-Partisan Club, went down to Ingleside Courthouse Park and spoke for Ryan. Jere O'Shea, a contractor and teamster and one-time business partner of Henry H. Lynch is out hot and strong for Ryan. He is the owner of the courting park at Ingleside.

RYAN LOUDLY CHEERED.
Porter and Brennan were received with loud shouts for "Ryan, Ryan." After the meeting the Ryan buttons were in universal demand.

Despite Ryan's absence, the Rough Riders' meeting in Washington Hall was well attended. Colonel Treadwell presided and received most encouraging reports from his subordinate officers upon the canvass made by them in various Assembly districts of the city. In his opening address Treadwell declared false the published reports that the Rough Riders were derided upon the question of Ryan's candidacy.

"It is not a fact that seven of our number declined to declare for Ryan for Mayor," demanded the colonel. "Are we not in our great majority heart and soul for the Republican candidate?"

ROUGH RIDERS FOR RYAN.
The answer came from a hundred throats: "We're for Ryan for Mayor! Three cheers for Dr. Ryan!"

Reports were received from Lieutenant-Colonel Kerrigan concerning the Thirty-ninth District; from Major Marc Anthony, representing the Forty-third and Forty-fourth; from Majors Blum, Steine, Horne and Gray, concerning, respectively, the Thirty-eighth, Thirty-sixth, Thirtieth and Thirty-seventh Districts; from Attorney Kingston, representing the Forty-first, and from various other members of the organization upon other districts of the city. All the reports purported to show a very large majority for Ryan everywhere.

Andrew Porter, James Brennan and Ernest Hayden represented Ryan at the meeting. The two first named delivered addresses. Dr. Leland, whom the Rough Riders have endorsed for Coroner, and Edgar D. Pelotte, their choice for City Attorney, also addressed the meeting and found favor with their audience.

"SLIDE TO RYAN" ON.
It is now declared by many who claim to be watching the political situation closely that the "slide to Ryan" is on with a vengeance and on to stay.

When Ryan started out in earnest upon his campaign the first thing he did was to set the people thinking. Responding to the cry of the Taylor supporters, that the credit of San Francisco demanded their man, he declared positively that so far from San Francisco being in any serious financial trouble, so far from being compelled to look to the East for assistance, she is well able to take care of herself, while it is the East that is in trouble.

ARGUMENT PROVED.
And just when Ryan's argument was helped out by the news from New York of the suspension of the Knickerbocker Trust Company and of the trouble in Wall Street, San Francisco bankers gave interviews to the newspapers, in which they declared that San Francisco was safe and sound financially. They all said: "The West has always been a lender to the East. It is not a borrower." So Ryan was enabled to knock the great campaign cry of the "calamity howlers" into space.

Ryan also paid his respects to P. H. McCarthy and his followers, all of whom are threatening an indefinite period of industrial strife in the event of the election of Dr. Taylor. Then came the argument that if danger was to be apprehended from the election of either Taylor or McCarthy, the voters and the wisest course for the voters to pursue must lie in the support of the man in the middle, with whom, to quote the words of McCarthy himself, "labor has no quarrel," and of whom, taking the expressed sentiment of a prominent financier, "capital has no fear."

LANGDON SAYS CHARGES AGAINST RYAN ARE WITHOUT FOUNDATION

District Attorney States He Investigated Allegations Months Ago and Found Them Made Without Reason.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—The suit which Mrs. Maude E. Heydenfeldt is attempting to bring against Daniel A. Ryan, Republican candidate for Mayor, on the alleged grounds that he "misused his trust and conspired with others to defraud," is declared by District Attorney Langdon to be groundless. The District Attorney emphatically says he investigated the whole matter months ago and found that there was no merit whatever in it.

The story told by one of the Heydenfeldts, according to local morning papers, is of a broken seal, missing missing stock and a vagrant promissory note that Ryan was supposed to have had in his possession. Ryan denies that he ever had the Heydenfeldt stock or note in his possession.

That the suit smacks of a political trick is believed from the fact that the papers said to have been given to Ryan were first asked for in 1902, and the suit is not brought until now in the midst of a campaign.

Langdon's written opinion of the Heydenfeldt claims follows:

"San Francisco, Oct. 26, 1907.

"Mrs. Heydenfeldt called at my office some time ago and complained about Mr. Ryan, Mr. McCarthy and several other attorneys. She stated that the only bond attorney she knew was George D. Collins. After investigating her matter, I came to the conclusion that her charges were without foundation and I so informed her.

W. H. LANGDON."

M'CARTHY IN BITTER TONE

In Denunciation Compares Supporters for Dr. Taylor to Rattlesnakes.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—P. H. McCarthy, Union Labor candidate for mayor, addressed a meeting and in the afternoon spoke at Sansome and Greenwich streets to an audience of mechanics and addressed the residents of the Mission at St. Ignace hall. He also spoke at the Jewish Synagogue, San Bruno, and at the beach. In the evening the Indoor Yacht Club heard the labor leader, and later the Sons of Brother Abraham welcomed him at the Auditorium.

There McCarthy stated his election would mean an industrial peace. He strongly attacked the men who, he said, are endeavoring to "disrupt the union labor movement to further the interests of Dr. Taylor and the Citizens' Alliance."

McCarthy said that the Citizens' Alliance stood behind Taylor and he represents it.

L. G. Burnett, Michael Casey, Walter McCarthy, Emory and others are supporting Taylor in behalf of Messrs. Spreckels and Phelan. De Young et al., he charged, and shouted:

"Remember, I declare here and now that those men whose names I have mentioned are using every effort to destroy the usefulness of organized labor to the wage-earners of this city. I and those with whom I am associated regard them in connection with the labor unions of our city in the same way that a human would regard a rattlesnake."

MEETING AT THE SYNAGOGUE

New Temple to Cost $300,000 Will be Discussed by the Trustees.

The annual meeting of the First Hebrew Congregation will be held tomorrow evening at the synagogue. Important matters will be discussed and there will be considerable competition over the new officers for the ensuing year.

The proposition to build a new temple will be taken up. On attendance day Rabbi Friedlander suggested that a new synagogue be erected, one that would reflect the Jewish liberality of this city, one that would be in keeping with the growth of Oakland.

Rabbi Friedlander would like "to see a new synagogue go up that will cost $300,000." The question will be fully discussed tonight.

DRINK FOR 5 YEARS DEFENSE FOR ARSON

NEWARK, N. J.—When Nicholas Connolly was placed on trial on an indictment charging arson, he announced to Judge Ten Eyck that he would act as his own counsel. He moved to quash the indictment.

"On what ground?" the Court asked.

"Because there is nothing in the case to show a more serious offense than disorderly conduct," the prisoner replied.

"As no testimony has been taken the motion is denied," the Court announced.

Witnesses swore they saw O'Connell set fire to a building at Broad and Market streets early one morning and then run away.

"I didn't do much damage, and besides, I was drunk. I've been drunk the last five years," was the defense offered by O'Connell.

The jury found him guilty.

POLITICAL ZEBRA KEEPS TRYING TO CHANGE STRIPES

Report That Langdon Plans to Trade Taylor for Ryan Votes Causes a Sensation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—The Taylorites have made the startling discovery that a Ryan-Langdon combination is trading votes against the head of the fusionist ticket. Those who have stumbled on the fact do not believe that the District Attorney is personally involved in the conspiracy to gain votes at the expense of the lawyer-doctor, but his friends are and the mischief is just as serious as if it had Langdon's personal endorsement.

The politicians are agreed that Langdon must seek election from sources altogether different from those to which Taylor has been appealing and to which he must resort for success. The only thing in common between the District Attorney and the emergency Mayor is that they are on the fusionist platform and are backed by the Spreckels influence. Beyond this their interests are opposite and in some cases antagonistic. This is the reason for the trading trick which is being perpetrated in the last week of the campaign.

While Taylor will receive a large part of the commercial vote, Langdon will be given practically none of it. This fact is recognized both by Taylor and by Langdon. The merchants are taking kindly to the canvass of the Mayor; but they will have none of the District Attorney. On the other hand Langdon is making a strong individual appeal to the laborites and his managers expect him to receive a large vote from this source. As a matter of necessity he must do so to win.

AGENTS ACTIVE.
His agents are active among the laborites and the nightly cry of Langdon is apology for what has not been done by the graft prosecution and a promise to punish Calhoun. Whether this is making an impression or not remains to be seen. McGowan appears to have the best of the argument, as he does not have to apologize for anything and is promising just as much as the District Attorney. McGowan's chief advantage lies in the fact that he has no uncomfortable mistakes to explain. This is seen in the reception given to his speeches.

LABORITE VOTES.
Taylor will of course receive very few, if any, laborite votes. This is conceded even by his managers. The unionist vote that will not go to McCarthy will be captured by Ryan and while the Republicans are not resorting to the absurdity of a straw vote on the question, they are receiving assurances which are keeping their spirits and confidence very high. There isn't a union labor man who has been in San Francisco long enough to know who's who, that would touch any movement that is tainted by Phelanism.

In the light of the District Attorney's handicap is constantly encountered and as a matter of self-protection Langdon is forced to deny his friends of the graft prosecution. He would be measurably better off in a political sense if he had fewer friends. As a political zebra he is necessarily at pains adding or removing stripes to his hide of many political colors.

His advisors have discovered that the liquor vote is solidly against him. This was feared but it was not made certain until a few days ago. In this campaign the liquor men are pursuing a course which is notorious and dangerous to their interests. As a rule they manage to solidify themselves on both policy and names and then stick rigidly to what they have outlined for themselves. But this year, while they are against Langdon, they are hopelessly split on the question of Mayor.

MCCARTHY'S FIGHT.
Apparently McCarthy appears to be favored by most laborites, although Ryan is pressing him very hard for preference. Taylor is a poor third but the antics of Chief of Police Biggy explains this to the satisfaction of the vast observing.

The laborite nominee is making a strong bid for other concentrated votes and appearances indicate that he will be successful. He certainly needs every vote he can get to counteract the disaffection in his own ranks.

The evening journal which is in the service of the graft prosecution has contributed another humor to the campaign. When Dr. Taylor was finally accepted by Spreckels and Phelan as their candidate for Mayor, the clerical gentleman, who writes on anything on or off the earth, bubbled in an ecstasy of praise and thanksgiving on the editorial page of the evening sheet.

Then came the covert admonition to keep the gentlemen of the cloth discreetly in the background until after November 5. The reverend contributor has since been giving motherly advice to young girls and discouraging learnedly and exhaustingly on the weather. Politically he has been suspended.

Since nobody, except by a process of elimination and suggestion, can discover for whom Langdon will vote for mayor the question has become pertinent for whom will Dr. Taylor vote for district attorney. The venerable lawyer-doctor has been as shy as Langdon in his public speeches and has not touched the subject even by innuendo. A guessing contest to determine the problem might be made profitable by one of the newspapers which is so distressingly industrious on straw ballots which do not give the direction of the political wind.

TRADING PLOT.
Since the discovery of the Ryan-Langdon trading plot against Dr. Taylor it is not improbable that the venerable figurehead of the Spreckels-Phelan crowd may have some very definite ideas of his own on the district attorneyship which may not be to the liking of the graft prosecution.

It is an extraordinary spectacle in an election where the admittedly vital issues of the campaign revolve around the positions of mayor and of district attorney that neither of two leading nominees for these offices, who are running on the same ticket, will tell what he thinks of the other. As far as the public utterances of Dr. Taylor throw any light on the selection of a district attorney is a matter only of small concern. As far as the speeches of District Attorney Langdon suggest anything pertinent a choice for mayor is so trivial that one aspirant is as good as another. Voters are beginning to look at the matter from the same point of view.

Why McCarthy's Election Is Possible

Dr. Taylor's supporters assert that the candidacy of Daniel A. Ryan is making possible the election of P. H. McCarthy, which they allege would be a calamity. Assuming for the sake of argument that McCarthy's election would be a misfortune as matters now stand (which is a matter of opinion) the blame for his election, if he is elected, will rest with Dr. Taylor and his supporters. Had they been true to their unselfish and public-spirited protestations, Mr. Ryan would today be the joint nominee of the Republican party and the self-styled Good Government Club. Dr. Taylor would not be a candidate and the fight would be a square issue between Ryan and McCarthy.

The election of Ryan would now be assured, and the danger of another Union Labor triumph (conceding it to be a danger) averted.

Mr. Ryan was the first candidate nominated by any party. He was nominated by the party registering the largest vote in the city and casting a vote at the primary election heavier than that of all other parties combined. The delegates who nominated him were elected with the understanding that their election meant his nomination.

Why, then, is he an ineligible or illogical candidate? Who says he is ineligible? Rudolph Spreckels, Gavin McNab, Democratic boss, William F. Herrin, chief counsel for the Southern Pacific; J. Dalzell Brown, representing the Western Pacific, and Isador Jacobs, friend of Abe Ruef and supporter of Eugene E. Schmitz.

The Republican delegates elected avowedly to nominate Ryan were commanded by the influences named to nominate Taylor, a Democrat, and nobody else. This demand was accompanied by the threat that Taylor would run whether nominated or not by either the Republican or Democratic conventions.

The moment that ultimatum was issued, the election of the Union Labor ticket became possible, if not probable.

So determined were the special interests supporting Taylor to keep him in the Mayor's chair that they practically allowed Gavin McNab to make up the rest of the joint Good Government and Democratic ticket in return for Taylor's nomination.

These facts cannot be gainsaid. They are open, notorious and undeniable. How, then, can it be truthfully, or even plausibly, alleged that Ryan's candidacy is making McCarthy's election possible? The three-cornered fight is due solely to the rule-or-ruin determination of a few millionaires and corporations to force the election of Taylor.

WHAT THE TRIBUNE IS FOR and AGAINST

So many false statements have been printed of late regarding the attitude of THE TRIBUNE toward San Francisco affairs that a concise statement of the position this paper has held from the beginning, and not deviated from, is not amiss.

THE TRIBUNE stands for a strict and impartial enforcement of the laws.

For honest, capable and economical government.

For industrial peace, and the right of every man to pursue any lawful occupation unmolested.

For a truthful and unbiased account of all occurrences worthy of being published.

For the stern prosecution of all criminals, whether rich or poor. And for an equal administration of the laws.

For fair trials before honest juries and unprejudiced judges in accordance with the established usages and rules of American jurisprudence.

It is opposed to compounding felonies.

Opposed to granting immunity to hoodlars on any terms.

Opposed to political deals with confessed criminals.

Opposed to any private individual, no matter how wise or virtuous, dominating the administration of justice, controlling and directing the activities of the District Attorney's office; usurping the pardoning power and singling out what persons shall be prosecuted and who shall be permitted to enjoy the fruits of a criminal career in liberty and peace.

Opposed to condoning betrayals of public trust, and to the infamous doctrine that justice and the law are impotent without calling to their aid thieves, harlots, mercenary spies and hoodlars.

Opposed to private prosecutions, private jails, private control over judicial functions, servile grand juries and complaisant judges.

Opposed to packing juries whether the defendants be guilty or innocent, and in favor of every righteous means and endeavor employed to punish law-breakers no matter how strongly entrenched by wealth and political influence.

Opposed to the machinery of the law being employed to wreak private revenges and further financial or political ends.

Opposed to class rule, mob violence, and persecution under the forms of law.

In short, our aim is to stand for the right as we see it, and to tell the truth as we find it.

The Tenderloin for Taylor.

Editorially the Chronicle scouts the statement that the tenderloin push are behind Taylor, but the following campaign note in its issue of this morning is conclusive proof that the tenderloin is lining up for the Democratic candidate:

"Better than straw ballots to indicate the direction of the wind is the fact that some of the tenderloin push have been quietly reporting to the Democratic leaders that they are out for Taylor, in the hope that they may benefit themselves by getting on the band wagon at the last moment."

The item closes with the statement that no promises are expected but only "fair treatment." It requires little perspicacity to grasp the meaning of the tenderloin idea of "fair treatment." It is also easy to understand why the push leaders are walking up to Democratic headquarters to give their assurance at the captain's office that they are "right" for Taylor and good government. Perhaps they are moved by fear of Biggy's police, but more likely they are actuated by a lively sense of favors to come.

The main trouble at the Ute reservation in South Dakota seems to grow out of the opposition of the older Indians to their children being forced by the agency authorities to attend school. The untutored savage has the strongest kind of prejudice against "white man's learning." It has been manifested on all of the Indian reservations at some time or other. But the education of the Indian children is made compulsory in all of the reservations where schools are being supported for their benefit by the government, and good results are being obtained from the system. Before the prejudice against education among the Indian tribes is totally eradicated, the older generation will have to pass away. The only great tribe of Indians which voluntarily adopted an educational system is the Cherokee nation, and it has profited by it in an eminent degree, for education among the Cherokees is in an advanced stage at the present time and the Nation ranks among the civilized races.

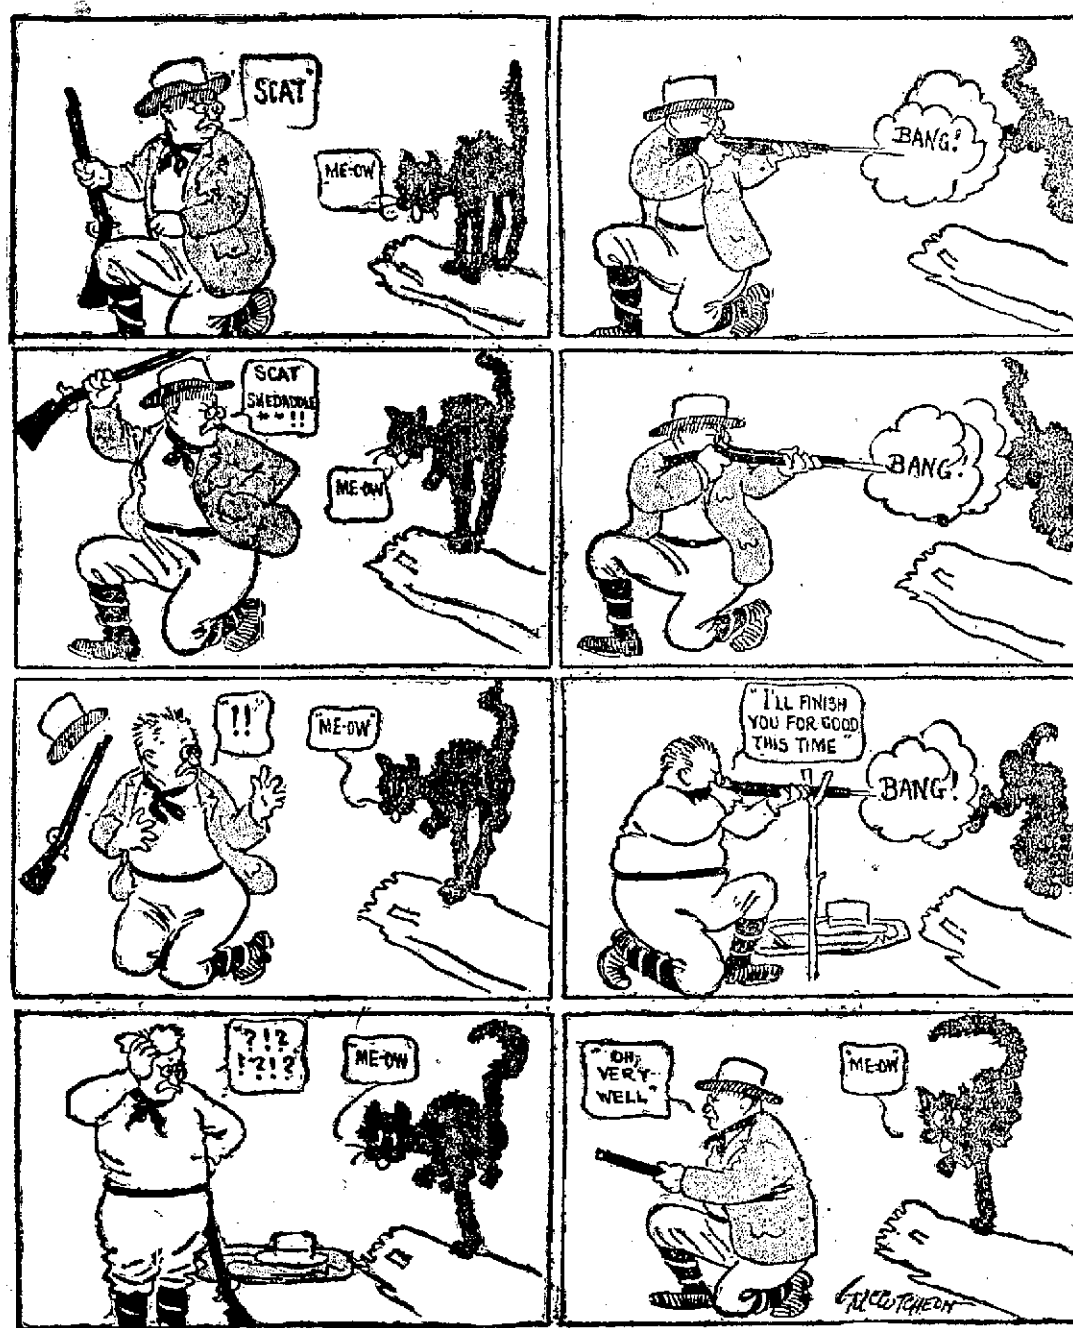

Two Cities With Sound Credit.

Los Angeles has floated the first installment of $1,000,000 of the big Owens River water bond issue which bears interest at 4 per cent without any difficulty, some of it being taken up by its own citizens, the remainder being subscribed by banks in other parts of the State. The credit of the metropolis of the southland is evidently as sound as that of Oakland, to which the Berkeley Courier calls attention, as follows:

"The Oakland park bonds, recently issued, have become very popular with the banks of this state, and many of them are buying up these securities to be used as the basis for deposits of state funds. Already, in sixteen different instances, banks have submitted Oakland park bonds to secure state deposits, the amount of the bond ranging from $1000 in one instance up to $109,000 in another case, and $107,000 in still another case. In all, $580,000 of park bonds has been deposited. In addition to this, the state has bought $20,000 of the same bonds for one of the sinking funds, making an even $600,000 of the new Oakland securities now in the state treasury."

Oakland and Los Angeles have thus illustrated respectively the soundness of their credit, at a time when Greater New York, with all its big population, vast wealth and enormous resources, has been unable to float a bond issue carrying 4½ per cent interest

Red Rubber Stamp Langdon.

Mayor Taylor continues to assert that he is no man's man, that he owns himself and controls the affairs of his office. We believe this to be true, for Dr. Taylor is a truthful, honest, well-intentioned man regardless of infirmities in other respects.

But how about Langdon? He does not claim to own himself or to control the affairs of his own office. It is an open and notorious fact that Rudolph Spreckels controls the District Attorney's office. Langdon is merely his creature. Mr. Spreckels does not even permit Langdon to conduct the trials of the men he has selected for indictment and prosecution. Mr. Spreckels collects evidence with his own force of privately paid spies, and directs the prosecutions in open court. Langdon is a mere figurehead—an official red rubber stamp for the use of Mr. Spreckels and his agents.

Is this what the people of San Francisco want in the District Attorney's office? How does it compare with the theory of the law or the official oath the incumbent is required to take?

What would be said if E. H. Harriman and his associates should raise a big fund, hire a band of private detectives, employ private attorneys and take possession of District Attorney Jerome's office and inaugurate a crusade against Stuyvesant Fish and his friends? What warrant in law, morals or public policy for the control over the District Attorney's office assumed by Rudolph Spreckels and James D. Phelan?

S.S.S. CURES CATARRH

Catarrh is not merely a disease of the mucous membranes and inner linings of the body as some of the symptoms would seem to indicate; it is a deep-seated blood disease, in which the entire circulation and the greater part of the system are involved. Like all other blood diseases, Catarrh comes from poisons and impurities accumulating in the circulation which irritate and inflame the tissues and mucous surfaces, and then the unpleasant symptoms of the disease are manifested. There is a ringing noise in the ears, a thin, watery discharge from the nostrils, filthy matter drops back into the throat, the breath has an offensive odor, and many other annoying and unpleasant symptoms are characteristic of the trouble. Sprays, washes, inhalations, etc., cannot reach the blood, and are therefore valuable only for the temporary relief they afford. To cure Catarrh the blood must be purified. Nothing equals S. S. S. for this purpose; it goes down into the circulation, removes the catarrhal matter, purifies the blood and makes a lasting cure. When S. S. S. has removed the cause, the blood being pure and healthy nourishes the membranes and tissues instead of irritating them with noxious matter, and the symptoms all pass away. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free.

Photograph Needs No Description, Except to Say That Kisses Are the Prizes Awaiting the Winner

In the increasing tendency to remain single and to live in clubs or boarding-houses rather than in homes. Our stores and offices are being filled with thousands of bachelors and maidens. The inordinate expenses of living, the vexations of the servant problem, keep persons from marrying. Yet there can be no happiness like that described as 'four feet on a fender.' Nor can morals be kept as pure.

WANTS UNIFORM DIVORCE LAWS.

"The lowering of our moral sense is evident from the way in which we issue our divorces. We have the worst record of any nation upon earth. In Switzerland, divorces are issued at the rate of forty to 1000 marriages; in France, at the rate of twenty-one to every 1000; in Great Britain, at the rate of one to every 2000. In twenty years we have in the United States divorced 328,000 couples, an average of 16,000 couples yearly. In ten years Chicago has divorced 16,538 couples.

"We need an effort to limit the number of marriage licenses issued. Do we not begin our reformation at the wrong end of the line? Should one who is sure to transmit diseases, or one who is mentally deficient, or one who is sure to remain a pauper, or a habitual drunkard, be allowed to contract such a relationship as marriage implies? Christian people should regulate their practices, not by the latitudinous law of the land, but by the pure precepts of Christ."

Women a Power in Education

Mrs. Helen Grenfell, former state superintendent of schools in Colorado, spoke at the National Educational Association upon the influence of women's organizations upon public education.

Mrs. Grenfell said on this important occasion that "Women's educational influences are not so high as those of the great scholars, but they are broader. To them it seems more important that all children should learn to read and write one language than that a few professors should know a dozen languages, dead or alive. Woman learns concretely, putting lessons into practice; learns to do by doing. The states with the highest educational facilities are those where the women are most active.

Illiteracy is largest where women have the least power, and grows less where they vote. Half a million of American children are illiterate, and 3,000,000 are earning their living. We cannot boast of opportunities while we have to admit such a disgrace."

ENDS SILENCE BY ORDER OF COURT Talks to His Wife And Then Takes to His Bed

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Adolph Felder, the ghetto philosopher, who thinks much and talks so little that Judge Cleland was forced to "sentence" him to talk half an hour to his wife, "suffered the penalty" yesterday, unfolded the great secret of his life, and then went to bed, exhausted by the effort.

At the Felder house, 11 O'Brien street, yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Felder said she had decided to assume the silent role characteristic of her husband.

"I can't talk about this matter at all," she said. "My husband has ordered that I stop talking, too—that is, to outsiders."

Mrs. Felder admitted the unusual strain of talking half an hour to her husband, who is a husky looking machine.

Felder, who is a husky looking machine, prepared for his ordeal by eating a big dinner.

"You wonder why I don't talk, wife," he began. "Well, with a little logical deduction from the surrounding circumstances you might be able to make a fair guess."

CONVERSES WHEN DRINKING.

"You caused me to give up drink. You noticed the minute I gave up drink I stopped talking. The conclusion is apparent. It is drink that used to make me as conversant as I was."

This was the secret of it all.

At this stage the philosopher called for a glass of water.

"I would rather talk a half hour to you here than an hour in the presence of the judge. So here goes, regardless of results," he continued.

Mrs. Felder was attentive and offered no interruption except when she cautioned her husband about drifting into the lines of ancient philosophy. Several neighbors and Felder's two daughters acted as referees.

"Adolph is a smart man and could talk if he wanted to," said one daughter. "He talked about Jesus's children making so much noise that he can't read sometimes; about how rich Rockefeller is; about the crowds down in Halsted street. He said he thought women are better talkers than men. He and mamma got in a little argument about whether or not a man ought to get up and get his own breakfast, like he does."

O'NEILL'S SEND ROSES.

When Mike O'Neill, 364 West Harrison street, heard that Mr. Felder had succumbed to the effort of serving the penalty, he and his wife agreed that they would send him some of the numerous bouquets that from time to time grace the O'Neill home. Mr. O'Neill was sentenced a month ago by Judge Cleland to bring his wife candy and roses each week.

"Well, the judge was right," reflected Mike. "We fellows ought to be more attentive to our wives and families. I'm mighty thankful he made me stop drinking."

ROPE FOR AFFINITY SEEKERS

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—Hanging for wife deserters was advocated yesterday by the Rev. James T. Marshall, pastor of Second Presbyterian Church, Oak Park.

"We have been hearing a good deal lately about affinities," he said. "The papers are reporting cases of men who suddenly discover affinities in the wives of other men, and put their discoveries into practice. Of all the base bloodhounds of hell that have slipped their leashes these are the meanest. Compared with them, the common murderer would make a good Christian Endeavor society president.

"For the wretch who in hunger steals; for him who in anger strikes a blow; for him who falls under the temptation to drink, let us have charity. But for the low leper who deserts his wife to whom he has sworn eternal love and seeks to cover up his baseness with sentimentality, let us keep nothing but vitriolic vials of wrath.

HANGING OR LASHING URGED.

"I would hang every one of these fellows. They are the worst enemies of decency and order, and should be lashed to the utmost limit of the law. It is to be hoped that our judges will realize their privileges."

A LONDON WOMAN DISCOVERS CHRISTIAN Ideal in Ancient Egypt

Only Nation of Old Showing Compassion for Human Weakness

Julia Wedgwood is a Londoner who finds the Christian ideal in ancient Egypt. The Hebrew and Egyptian ideals of neighborliness, of compassion for human weakness and failure, are nowhere else realized except in Christianity. An unknown Egyptian in a hymn to the god Ra, written more than three millenniums ago, hails him in words that might be taken from a Hebrew psalmist.

"Then listenest to the poor who are in distress, then deliverest the timid man from the violent. Then judgest the poor and oppressed. Lord of mercy nations."

most loving at whose coming men live." This compassion is equally alien from the ideals of Greece and Rome, and a still closer parallel with Christianity is found in the Egyptian god Osiris, who was at the same time a man and a victim, the creator and the judge of the dead, while his wife, Isis, with the infant Horus on her knees, prefigures and becomes in Egyptian art the archetype of the pre-Raphaelite Madonna.

In Greece the dominating principle is held to be that of harmony and balance, a sense of moral as of artistic proportion, and of the Nemesis that waits on justice. Her ephemeral brilliance and vanity is viewed in juxtaposition to the permanence of Rome, insurmountable of universal law and organized unity. In the early days of the Roman empire an attempt is made to show the disposition of philosophers to reconcile all varieties of thought, to find, as it were, a truth common to religions, parallel to the law common to nations.

WANTS WIFE'S LOVE LETTER

Read in This Will Suit to Get Estate

FAIRFIELD, Ill., Oct. 28.—Whether the statements made in a love letter written before marriage by an old woman to a young man shall be allowed to operate as a will after her death is an issue that will be tried in the Wayne county Circuit Court this week.

December 2, 1905, Mrs. Rebecca Barrackman-Kennedy, aged 76, wealthy, after thirty-seven years of married life with Henry K. Kennedy, aged 38, died, leaving him, as he then thought, sole heir to an estate valued at $45,000. Later Mrs. Oliver P. Borah claimed that she had been adopted by Mrs. Kennedy twenty-five years ago. Part of the estate was awarded to her.

Kennedy now has resuscitated one of his wife's love letters, written before their marriage, in which it is alleged she said she wished him to have her property—and particularly that she did not want any of her relatives to have it. He asks the court to construe this letter as the last will and testament of his wife and has brought suit to recover $31,409 from Mrs. Borah.

Asks Divorce Because Husband Kissed Baby

FORT DODGE, Ia.—Because her husband insisted on kissing the baby Mrs. Alfred Handall this week asked the court to grant her a divorce. Although habitually drunkness is also claimed, Mrs. Handall says her greatest reason for desiring separation is that she fears the health of her infant child will be imperiled if he is in his father's care.

She states that the father is a user of liquor and tobacco, and with his mouth reeking with nicotine and spirits, presses his lips against those of the little child, sickening it as the parents and spasms result.

TEACHES ARTS TO GIRLS IN SOUTH AFRICA

Emily Hobhouse has free industrial schools in South Africa for the benefit of the helpless and unfortunate Dutch girls, to teach them how to spin, weave and make useful and valuable cloths, fabrics, and carpets for home and commerce. She first went to the Orange River colony several years ago, and when the first school was well under way passed on to the Transvaal and founded its duplicate. These two parent schools are now firmly established, and form centers whence Doer girls, trained in hand spinning, dyeing and weaving, go out to teach the industry in the farmhouses and country districts.

Pupils who have passed through the first school are now successfully teaching elsewhere. After an exhibition of the work they took in about $800. Practically all the good work sold quickly and easily, and certain knes could have been sold over and over again. Unless all signs fail, Emily Hobhouse is destined to become one of the leading sources of commercial greatness and wealth to the people of South Africa, and a source of wealth that can only operate beneficially on the individual and society, as it promises to produce an ever growing stream of wealth resulting from honest industry.

SEX EQUALITY.

In a recent work on "Sex Equality," Edmund Denmore, the author, claims that, in time, "woman will acquire the same originating powers as man," and man the "same intuition, refinement and spirituality as woman."

W. E. Henley has expressed one view on that possibility.

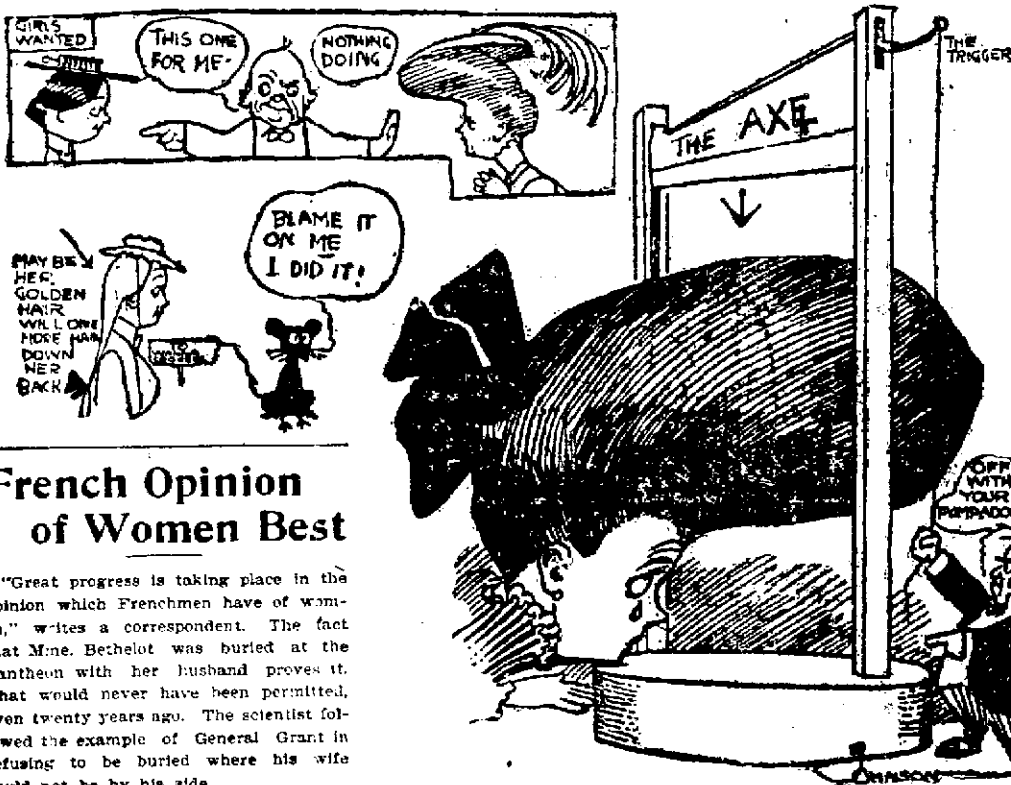

"As like the Woman as you can,
(Thus the New Adam was beguiled)—
So shall you touch the Perfect Man.
(God in the Garden heard and smiled.)
Your father perished with his day;
A clot of passions fierce and blind,
He fought, he backed, he crushed his way;
Your muscles, Child, must be of mind.

"The brute that lurks and licks within,
How till you have him gagged and bound,
Escape the foulest form of Sin?
(God in the Garden laughed and frowned.)
So vile, so rank, the bestial mood
In which the race is bid to be,
It wrecks the Rarer Womanhood;
Live, therefore, you, for Purty!

"Take for your mate no gallant group,
No girl all grace and natural will;
To work her mission were to stoop,
Maybe to lapse, from Well to Ill.
Choose one of whom your grosser make—(God in the Garden laughed outright)—
The true refining touch may take,
Till both attain to Life's last height.

"There, equal, purged of soul and sense,
Beneficent, high-thinking, just,
Beyond the appeal of Violence,
Incapable of common Lust,
In mental Marriage shall prevail—
(God in the Garden hid his face)—
Till you achieve that Female-Male,
In which shall culminate the race."

My! Oh! My! THE POMPADOUR IS NOW BEING FOUGHT BY MEN WHO CAUSE TROUBLE TO WOMEN

French Opinion of Women Best

"Great progress is taking place in the opinion which Frenchmen have of women," writes a correspondent. The fact that Mme. Bechelet was buried at the Pantheon with her husband proves it. That would never have been permitted, even twenty years ago. The scientist followed the example of General Grant in refusing to be buried where his wife could not be by his side.

HAS UPTON SINCLAIR HAD DIFFERENCES WITH WIFE?

POINT PLEASANT, N. J., Oct. 28.—There is some speculation here as to the whereabouts of Mrs. Upton B. Sinclair, wife of the socialist and novelist, author of "The Jungle," and exposé of Chicago packing house secrets.

Her continued absence from the Sinclair cottage at West Point Pleasant has given rise to rumors, one of which is that she may never return here owing to differences with her husband.

Sinclair's home on the shores of the Manasquan river is in charge of his secretary, Miss Edith Summers, who also looks after the novelist's five-year-old son, David. When Sinclair is away Mrs. Sinclair's aunt, Mrs. Man, has a cottage near that of Sinclair, but is not taken any position of authority at the Sinclair home during the absence of Mrs. Sinclair.

LEFT WITH FATHER.

A reporter who called at the Sinclair home was informed by Miss Summers that Mrs. Sinclair is an inmate of a sanitarium at Battle Creek. She had suffered a nervous breakdown, the secretary said, at the time of the destruction by fire on March 16 last of Helicon hall, glewood, N. J., founded by Sinclair. Miss Summers said she did not know when the home of the socialist colony at Edinboro, Pa., would return.

The ticket agent at the Point Pleasant railroad station said today that Mrs. Sinclair left here in company with her father, who had made the arrangements for her departure. No one was found who could give any verification to a rumor that differences had arisen between Mrs. Sinclair and her husband.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Upton Sinclair was at his mother's apartments at the southwest corner of Broadway and Ninth street a few nights ago. He denied, through his mother, that he had impersonated a servant at the Breakers, in Newport. He was in Newport recently, she said, and visited the home of Mrs. Vanderbilt, but not in disguise.

THE MAN WHO WORRIES
Its Influence Upon Health.

A well-known physician relates the following instance. A patient suffering from some obscure pulmonary trouble called for a consultation and the symptoms were detailed at length. For many years this man had not only contracted and treated with one physician after another, but he had read every book he could find on the subject of his trouble. His mind had been kept continually upon his ailment and in consequence his life was most miserable. Had this man employed his mind with other subjects, taken plenty of fresh air, exercise, and built up his general health by taking our cod liver preparation, Vinol, which is made by a scientific, extractive and concentrating process from fresh cod's livers, combining with peppermint-essence all the medicinal, healing, body-building elements of cod liver oil, but no oil, he would have been a well and happy man all these years. Vinol purifies and enriches the blood, tones up the digestive organs and strengthened every organ of the body to do its work as nature intended. We sell Vinol on a guarantee to return money if it fails to give satisfaction. The Owl Drug Co., Oakland, Cal.

Talks to Suffering
Women

I have made the treatment and cure of female disorders a special study. In my office will be found a splendid equipment specially made for this work. I can give immediate relief in many cases and permanent cures in most cases. I want the ladies of this city to feel at perfect liberty to visit my office, and assure them of courteous, confidential, and effective treatment. I know, by my methods, I can save many other needless and costly operations.

ORPHEUM HAS A LOT OF GOOD THINGS ON THE BILL

THE WHITCOMB RILEY QUARTETTE IN THE ACT: "A NIGHT WITH THE POETS," AT THE OAKLAND ORPHEUM.

Tier upon tier of humanity packed the Oakland Orpheum to the ceiling, and back to the outermost doors, at the two performances yesterday when Elsie Fay, the "Belle of Avenue A," and the other features of a new vaudeville bill went through their performance. Records for attendance went glimmering and the vaudeville show was declared to be one of the most brilliant that even the Orpheum has been able to present during its career on Twelfth street, in Oakland.

The Orpheum standard is pretty high,
but the crowds seemed to be of the opinion that even that high standard had been raised a bit in the getting up of the new bill that went on at the audience yesterday.

Elsie Fay stays but one week at the Avenue A, was one of the stars, and reality did she win the applause that star acts are supposed to get, but sometimes fall of receiving. Miss Elsie Fay is inimitable. She is a wonder as a songstress, as a comedienne, as an entertainer. There is no one in trying to describe her act, or in saying what she does or does not do.
She is Elsie Fay—that is all, and that was enough for the crowds yesterday.

Elsie Fay stays but one week at the Orpheum, more the pity, for she alone could crowd the theater during a two weeks' engagement, so potent is the magnetism she employs.

But Elsie Fay is not alone on the bill.
There is a beautiful act called "O Nights With the Poets," which pleased the throng mightily. This is probably the most artistic affair ever devised for vaudeville. Twelve artists take part in tableaux, illustrating scenes from James Whitcomb Riley's poems, while J. R. Reeves reads the choicest bits of the Riley verses. Then the Whitcomb Riley quartette sings, and the whole thing resolves itself into a rich, beautiful, literary masterpiece, with such scene embellishments as make it a spectacle as well as a delight to the mental senses.

The Forty Dainty Dancers from Paris were not the least notable of the newcomers. They are pretty girls, prettily dressed, and they dance gracefully and in pleasing fashion.

Dixon and Fields, German comedians, amused the crowd, and Berry and Berry entertained with a clever musical specialty.

Lek Hawkins had a lot of new songs and funny stories, and Miss Inez Macaulay repeated her bright sketch, "The Unexpected."

The Vaudeville Girls, eight of them and all artists, are on the bill, beginning their last week yesterday. Their electrical dance continues to be one of the fascinating features of the bill.

FROM COLUSA.

Mrs. Will S. Green of Colusa is in Oakland, and will remain for a few days, visiting friends. She will also go to San Jose with Miss Susan Yezzer; her niece, whose home is in Mississippi.

HALLOWEEN PARTY.

Miss Addie Oliphant is to be hostess tomorrow evening at a pretty Halloween affair planned in compliment to Miss Bessie Coghill, who is to be married to John Treanor, in November.

Miss Oliphant has included in her invitation about twenty of the young friends of the bride to be; and the evening will be given over to the Halloween games so much enjoyed at this season. The party will include the girls of Miss Cog-hill's wedding party, and several others.
The list reads: Miss Bessie Coghill, Miss Alice Hoyt, Miss Dora Jacobs, Miss Hazel
Purper, Miss Florence Treadwell, Miss

AT ALTA VISTA.

Halloween will be fittingly celebrated on Thursday night at Alta Vista, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Butters.
Miss Marie Butters and her sister, Miss Marguerite, are planning a number of original features for their evening, and the invited guests are entering into the spirit of the evening in a way that insures its success.

The stipulation that all the guests come masked and in fancy dress carries with it a suggestion of the frolic in private, and it is further whetted by a mock auction, in which all the bachelor men and maids are to be rounded up, will result in more than one interesting announcement. The outlook promises that the brooding witches will find many kindred spirits on Thursday night at Alta Vista.

AFTERNOON AFFAIR.

Another pretty Halloween affair will be given by Mrs. L. L. Brownell on Wednesday at her home at Ninth and Madison streets. The guest of honor is Miss Helen Matthews of New York, who is Mrs. Brownell's guest. Almost a hundred names are in the list of friends invited for the afternoon, and the fair promises to be delightful. The house is charming in itself, and will be decorated in the quaint fashion that Hallowe'en superstition suggests. Details of the luncheon and the games which are to furnish amusement for the afternoon.

Mrs. Brownell will be assisted in receiving by Mrs. C. O. Brown, Mrs. M.
Matthews, Mrs. George Field, Mrs. Charles
Hutchinson, Mrs. J. Q. Brown, Mrs.
George de Golia, Mrs. Challen Parker,
Mrs. Frank L. Brown, Miss Katharine
Brown, Mrs. Irving Lundberg, Mrs. Fred
Stolp, Mrs. Francis Musser, Miss Irene Bangs, Mrs. Edwin Hale Campbell and Miss Georgia Strong.

INFORMAL EVENING.

Miss Susie Yeager, of Mississippi, a niece of Senator Morgan of the Southern state, is a visitor in California, and has been spending some days in Oakland.
Mrs. Zoe Green Radcliffe entertained Miss Yeager and Miss Azile Brown of Colusa at her home on Eighth street one evening of last week. An informal musical program, unusually fine for parlor music, was given by Rufus Smith and Bruce Metcalf, who were among the guests. Cards and the serving of dainty refreshments added to the enjoyment of the evening.

OAKLAND CLUB.

A most interesting afternoon of music has been arranged by the Oakland Club for Wednesday of this week. Estelle Franklin Gray, a very highly talented young violinist, and Miss Marion Coyle, contralto, are to give the numbers. Miss Gray is a child-pupil of Minetti, who predicts a wonderful future for her. She plays with a dash that is striking and unusual. The numbers chosen are a "Canzonetta," by d'Ambrosio, and a "Gypsy Dance," by Monti, the latter by request. She will also play a "Concerto Romantique," by Goddard.
Miss Coyle, whose lovely contralto voice has been cultivated in European schools, will give a "Romanza," from "La Gioconda," "Wedding," by Schumann, "Spirit

Song," by Haydn, "Meditation in the Water," by Goez, and the "Happy Song," Del Riego. Miss Linda Wilson will play for Miss Coyle. Miss Gray's numbers will have accompaniments by Mrs. Robert M. Hughes. All the musical features are more than ordinarily attractive.
Another interesting feature of the day will be the reading of an original poem by Mrs. Carrie Armstrong. The poem is a series of impressions relating to the musical afternoon arranged for the club last month by Mrs. D. P. Hughes. A copy of the poem, framed, is to be presented to the club. A second copy will be given to Mrs. D. P. Hughes.
Mrs. N. S. Palmer is to be chairman of the committee for the day.

HALLOWEEN PARTY.

A Halloween party will be given at Central Hall on Wednesday evening, October 30, by Prof. J. S. McCown. The affair will undoubtedly be a large success, as no pains nor expense have been spared to make it so. Many novelties in the form of snakes, dragons, etc. have been arranged and there is to be a real witch riding the broomstick. This last named feature promises to be one of the most amusing and entertaining on the program. There are to be pretty souvenir programs for the dancing, for which special music has been secured. A little game of conundrums will be another of the features. Refreshments will be served throughout the evening.

TO COLORADO.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Backwith returned on Saturday to their home on Telegraph avenue, after a most enjoyable visit to Colorado. They went as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Warner, now of Chicago, who had planned to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage by revisiting the places in Colorado where their romance had its beginning. A party of close friends participated in the celebration, making the journey in a private car with the host and hostess.

RETURNS TO OAKLAND.

Mrs. Clarence C. Cunha, who was married early in the year, has returned from a long visit to Eastern cities, and is to remain for the winter in Oakland. Mrs.
Cunha is a niece of Frank C. Havens and a sister of George Sterling, the poet.
Personally she is very interesting and is popular in Oakland society circles. In the summer she spent much time at Sag Harbor, the Havens' country home, and she will probably be entertained by them
during the coming season.

CONCERT.

By special request the combined choirs
of the Fitchburg Congregational Church and the Twenty-third Street M. E. Church will give a concert under the direction of Gus Schneider at the Market street Congregational Church, corner of Market and Eighteenth streets, on Tuesday evening, October 29.

Miss Marjorie Morse, soprano; Miss Gertrude Maurer, reader, and the Seminary Park Ladies' Quartette will take part in the program. Following are the numbers prepared:

HOME WEDDING.

Miss Laura Elizabeth Canty and Chas.
Augustus Burgher are to be married on Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J.
Canty, of Sixteenth and Myrtle streets.
The wedding plans are very charming in detail, and the event will have all the social appointments conceivable. The large reception room, where the ceremony is to take place, will be done entirely in pink roses; a bower of roses for the bridal party, an arrangement of pink bells for the chandeliers, and a mass of pink roses banking the mantel shelf.

Rev. Father McSweeney of St. Francis de Sales Church is to read the marriage service. Miss Jessie Burgher, a sister of the bridegroom, will play the wedding march. The bride will have as her attendant her sister, Miss Veronica Canty, Chester Martin, an old friend of Mr.
Burgher, is to attend as best man.

About sixty guests will be present at the wedding, many of them coming from Ventura, the bride's former home.

OUT OF SIGHT.

"Out of sight, out of mind" is an old saying which applies with special force
to a sore burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles, too, and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by Coughlin Bros. druggists,

WOMAN JUMPS FROM
WINDOW; BURLAR CALM

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—(Franklin with fear
of a burglar whom she had discovered in her bedroom, Mrs. Barbara Rumstick, 53 years of age, last night leaped
from an open window to the ground and sustained a fractured wrist and internal injuries which rendered her unconscious.

The robber, looking out of the window and seeing the woman lying motionless on the ground, menaced her husband with his revolver to prevent an outcry and calmly proceeded to ransack
the contents of a bureau and clothes press. Then he tied his booty
in a sack and swung from the window
and, dropping to the ground, passed the unconscious woman without a glance.

As the burglar fled through the neighborhood yards, Bumstick rushed in his
night clothes to his wife's assistance.
He found her still unconscious and moan-
ing with pain.

OUT OF SIGHT.

"Out of sight, out of mind" is an old
saying which applies with special force
to a sore burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's
out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles, too, and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guar-

WOMAN JUMPS FROM
WINDOW; BURLAR CALM

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—(Franklin with fear
of a burglar whom she had discovered in her bedroom, Mrs. Barbara Rum-
stick, 53 years of age, last night leaped
from an open window to the ground and
sustained a fractured wrist and internal
injuries which rendered her unconscious.

The robber, looking out of the window and seeing the woman lying motion-
less on the ground, menaced her
husband with his revolver to prevent an
outcry and calmly proceeded to ransack
the contents of a bureau and
clothes press. Then he tied his booty
in a sack and swung from the window
and, dropping to the ground, passed the unconscious woman without a glance.

As the burglar fled through the neighborhood yards, Bumstick rushed in his
night clothes to his wife's assistance.
He found her still unconscious and moan-
ing with pain.

THAW'S SISTER
PERSECUTED

Titled Relatives by Marriage Angered Over Disgrace of Tragedy.

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The Countess of Yarmouth, who is now here, is planning to be in New York at the time of the new trial of Harry Thaw, her brother.

Lady Yarmouth suffers perhaps more than any other member of the Thaw family, because aside from her natural affection for the defendant, she has to bear with her husband's people.

The relatives of the Earl of Yarmouth constantly harp upon the one string of "the disgrace" brought upon the noble family of the Seymours.

MOTHER-IN-LAW MAD.

Lord Yarmouth's mother, the March-ioness of Hertford, is most severe and uncompromising and so are all the rest of the family. Lady Hertford's sisters, the Hon. Mrs. Greville and the Hon. Mrs.
Evans, were once maids of honor to the late Queen Victoria. Another sister, the Hon. Mrs. McPherson, was a lady of the bedchamber of Queen Alexandra.

With all that distinction it can be seen how hard it is for Lady Yarmouth's kin (by marriage) to endure the thought of a trial of her brother for his life.

Lady Yarmouth has aged three years in looks in the last year. She goes about like a shadow, taking little interest in the surroundings.

JIM FLYNN, FIGHTING MAN, AGGRESSIVE, HARD FIGHTER

Gleason Will Know Today if He Gets Permit—Owen Moran on His Way to the Coast.

By EDDIE SMITH.

"Rough Rider Teddy," the President of the United States and Alameda, is reported as saying, during one of his famous speeches, "The best way to party is to lead."

With a slight change of wording, which would allow for a little of the up-to-date slang, the statement would fit the fighting fireman, Jim Flynn, of Colorado, to a nicety.

That Flynn believes the best way to block is to lead, one realizes after a visit to the rough and ready fighter's training camp. The fireman has only one style of fighting and that is not by any means a clever one; he is simply a hard hitting, rough fellow with plenty of steam, world of courage, plenty of ginger and with the belief that when he goes at the colored man, Mister Jack Johnson, that he will keep leading and punching so fast that the colored champion will be kept busy backing up and blocking the punches that will be coming at him from all directions.

Flynn and his trainer, Frank McDonald, seem to be well aware of the fact that the white man will get a good jabbing during the early part of the contest, but he knows also of the point that when the white man crowds in on the gentleman of color that things will grow too hot for Johnson's liking and that he will do the same as he has in many other contests, back up and show the lack of courage that is necessary in a fighter's make-up.

If Flynn is the tough nut that he has been trusted, and from his workouts at the training quarters he certainly looks the part, he will, in the judgment of the writer, make the colored gent back up, as the others have done before him.

The contest being for forty-five rounds' duration, however, the black boy should succeed in gradually wearing down the willing but not clever fighter from the Rocky Mountains.

Johnson will show up if he is badly stung and Flynn will be allowed some freedom during that time, but the colored man will not deliberately quit, that is, he never has done so, when he slows down he will back up at times, and as an opponent comes in he shoots his straight left out to keep him away, each time that that little left leaves a mark, for the big fellow knows just how to use it. If the battle is that sort of an affair it will only be a matter of how many rounds Flynn can stand the going.

The only chance the writer can see for Flynn to win is by the knockout system, which is indeed a hard thing to do. Flynn is of the opinion that he will be successful, however, and will enter the ring with the firm belief that he will accomplish the difficult task and with so much confidence there is a chance of his doing so.

This afternoon the San Francisco Supervisors meet and it is understood that Jack Gleason will make his final plea for the December fight permit. Gleason is entitled to the permit, and it is the hope of all the fair-minded boxing fans in San Francisco that he will be given the necessary assurance that he desires regarding his chances for handling the Ketchel-Thomas twenty-round contest.

The contest is one of the very best matches that could be arranged and at the present time there is not a pugilistic attraction on the market that the fans would rather see than a third match between Ketchel and Thomas.

Today should settle the thing for unless Gleason gets some sort of encouragement from the fighters he announced that the match will be on the market and some other promoter will grab it up.

There is still talk of a Ketchel-Gleason fight going the rounds in San Francisco, but this is out of the question for the Montana fighter can not make the required 145 pounds demanded by Gans, or unless the writer is badly mistaken, he can not come within five pounds of it, if the weight is to be taken close to the time that the men are to enter the ring.

Gans is too smart to think that with the approaching age that is overtaking him and the extra weight that the hard-hitting, strong Montana champion has over him, he would be able to beat the youngster and the match is one that is an almost impossible one.

Owen Moran, the English fighter who is to meet Frankie Neil next month before Alameda, the San Francisco Club, has started west and should arrive here some time the latter end of this week.

Charles Harvey, the New York manager of the little fellow, has asked Jim Coffroth to handle the little fighter, and the promoter has announced that he has secured the services of Prof. Jimmy Kelly as a trainer, and that the English will do his training at Shannon's Villa, at San Rafael.

BREEZY TURF GOSSIP

(By LEE DEMIER.)

Hurrah! Hurrah! Uncle Sam Hillbreth's $30,000 wonder, accompanied by Melick, Tony Faust, Gene Russell, Ray Water, Neil and King's Field, arrived last night in a palace horse car, coming direct from New York. Mr. Hillbreth, who is one of America's greatest trainers, has made his appearance at the Capital City track and is being greeted by many of the big trainers who have been making New Orleans their stamping ground this year. I am very much pleased with my yearlings, who are in charge of the horses shipped will include: Golding Star, Tony Faust, Neil, Melick, King's Field, Gene Russell, Ray Water, Neil and King's Field.

Trainer William Maxwell will ship Roy O'Connell's horses from Sacramento this week. Jokey C. Ross, who has been galloping the horses at the Capital City will accompany the stable.

W. P. Pike's Glorio, the Seattle Hill doo, will look up with the best at Williams Park this winter, not baring Uncle.

Jim Niel said yesterday that Sam Hillbreth need not swell out his chest, because he has got an "Uncle Sam" in him, prouder man than he is. "Why?" I asked. "Got Uncle Sam?"

Owner J. J. Huesar said yesterday that he picked up six purses with his meat ticket, Mitchell, up in the jungle this summer. The horse was also sixteen times in the money.

Manassah one of the head-liners in the Keene's barn pulled up lame in his work recently. It might be possible that the horse will have to be fired," said Jack Keene.

"My horses were the racing public," Melick at Williams Park not so many years ago," said Charles McCafferty yesterday. "But now, according to some turf writers they ought to be pulling milk cartons. Every year but this one I have come to stable room on the inside, but things have changed of late, and since my arrival from Seattle with my horse I was told to take and hide my aggregation of stable-beds some where else."

Trainer Mike Jacobson is on his way from Windsor, Canada, with four horses in which J. E. Maiden has an interest.

Barney Schreiber will campaign Jack Atkin at New Orleans.

Dave Henry will go to the Schreiber farm in a day or so to make up his outfit for Oakland. Johnny Powers will come to Lodi and take charge of the string there until the racing is on at Los Angeles.

After Deutschland's victory at Lodi recently, Barney Schreiber announced that the horse would be shipped to California, consignment, Yankeland, a fly by Deutschland, standing seventeen hands high, will be among the lot from Woodlands.

Several persons are negotiating with Barney Schreiber for the transfer of his good stallion, Sam. "How much have you been offered for him?" asked a bystander at Lodi the other day. "Enough to pay for a modern sky-scraper," replied Schreiber. "Is he for sale?" was the next question. "Yes," said Schreiber, "at my price."

Walter Miller, America's premier saddle performer on arrival in California will go to Thomas H. Williams ranch in French horse Adam this year.

Seals Drop Two in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28.—The last drops of the Seals here yesterday for the present season were disgraceful ones, and we were twice by the champions, the first game being 8 to 2 in eleven innings, and the second 8 to 0 in eleven innings. The Seals were downed by the Dodgers in two games, while twelve were made of Hentley and yet the champions had to be beaten in the second game before they could win the series.

The game was at its best and Piper was the only pitcher who made a hit off him. Piper and Hildebrand, who got the only pass, were the only two men to reach first base and "Hildebrand" got as a second.

The features of the first game were a running play by Cravath, a sacrifice and the stupidity of Seal players in the tenth, when they should have won the game by a sacrifice.

Cravath, who was hit by a sacrifice, was hit by a sacrifice, and the Seals were downed by the Dodgers in two games, while twelve were made of Hentley and yet the champions had to be beaten in the second game before they could win the series.

THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE
GRAND $10,000 PRIZE CONTEST

One Vote for

CUT THIS OUT.

NOT GOOD AFTER NOV. 15, 1907.

EVERYONE LIKES TO HELP WINNER
Do Not Be a Back Number—Set the Pace.

$100 CASH PRIZE.
AN EXTRA PRIZE OF $100 IN GOLD WILL BE AWARDED TO THE CANDIDATE WHO, WITH THE AID OF FRIENDS, BRINGS IN THE LARGEST AMOUNT OF MONEY ON PAID-IN-ADVANCE SUBSCRIPTIONS FROM FRIDAY, OCTOBER 18, TO SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 2.

ALL SUBSCRIPTIONS PAID IN ADVANCE DURING THIS PERIOD, WHETHER BY CANDIDATES OR THEIR FRIENDS, WILL BE CREDITED IN FAVOR OF A CANDIDATE AS REQUESTED.

THE VOTES ISSUED ON THESE SUBSCRIPTIONS CAN BE VOTED AT ANY TIME, OR HELD AND VOTED ON THE LAST NIGHT OF THE CONTEST IF DESIRED.

AT NO TIME DURING THE CONTEST WILL ANY MORE DOUBLE VOTES BE ISSUED OR WILL ANY SPECIAL VOTE OFFER BE MADE. THIS IS AN EXCELLENT CHANCE TO GET $100 IN EASY MONEY.

The Sunday totals were very gratifying to the many contestants who had worked zealously during the week in securing the necessary subscriptions and votes to make the goal.

While the standings of some of the candidates are the same as they were, they no doubt have been working as earnestly as the rest, but are for some reason holding back their votes.

It is not wise to hold back too many votes and then fall far behind the other candidates.

NAME AMONG FIRST.
If your name stands out among the first your friends make a greater effort

In your behalf, and will take more interest in your campaign.

Do not become discouraged and give up the race at this stage of the game, but make the best of the effort, and, if possible, make a success of the undertaking.

Get out among your friends and get enough votes in one day to put all doubt aside as to your ability to win the prize.

START A CAMPAIGN.
Not one of your friends will refuse to subscribe to THE TRIBUNE to help you win the prize, and a good active campaign among them will help your vote if you start now and get down to good hard work among them.

DO NOT DELAY.
Don't delay another moment, but bring or send that subscription in and see your friend's name at the very top.

By Tuesday morning you will see if your friends have rallied to your aid in the contest.

How many friends have you working in your interest? If it's only two or three, that's not enough, but see if you cannot increase that number to three times that number, thus assuring yourself of winning the valuable prize.

COUPONS IN PACKAGES.
The vote coupons must be tied in packages or placed in envelopes. It is impossible to count thousands of coupons dropped loosely in the box.

MANNER OF VOTING.
A coupon good for one vote will be published in each issue of THE TRIBUNE until the end of the contest. This coupon, clipped and sent to the Contest Manager of THE TRIBUNE, will count as one vote for the contestant named therein.

There is another and better way of securing votes and that is on subscriptions. Votes will be given on all paid-in-advance subscriptions as follows:

Three months, $1.00..... 100 extra votes
Six months, $2.00..... 200 extra votes
One year, $4.00..... 400 extra votes
Two years, $8.00..... 800 extra votes
Three years, $12.00..... 1200 extra votes

Three hundred votes are also issued on a classified advertisement coupon book, which contains coupons worth $2.50, but sells for only $2.

CLASSIFIED AD COUPONS.
An innovation in voting contests is the issuing of votes on classified advertisements. A coupon book containing coupons to the value of $2.50 is sold for $2. This is a saving of 25 cents on each dollar, and will prove a great incentive for those who advertise. Classified advertisements are such as "Help Wanted," "For Sale," "Rooms to Rent," etc. These classified advertisement coupons can be used at the time the books are bought or at a later date as may be desired.

Berkeley Boys Make Showing

BERKELEY, Oct. 28.—The swimming team of the Berkeley High School, which entered the swimming contest at the Academic Athletic League Friday night, succeeded in getting away with four points, although the boys entered in only two events. Lowell High School won the meet with twenty-eight points, Lick second with eight, and Berkeley and Winterville tied for third with four points each.

A Berkeley High freshman, Phil Peterson, swam a strong race in the quarter-mile event, getting second place. He was awarded his points as he had made points for his school. The relay team from the local school stayed with the leaders until the last two laps, when it was distanced and Winterville tied for third with four points each.

The sensation of the evening was the swimming of Tom Lane for Lowell, who broke the record for the 500-yard dash by full forty seconds. His time for the event was 14 minutes 10.2 seconds.

The detailed scores are as follows:
100-yard dash—Won by Butler (L. H.), Rawlins (L. H.) second, and De Merritt (W. E.) third; time, 15.4.
200-yard dash—Won by Rawlins (L. H.), Chapman (W. S. L. A.) second, and Dill (C. S. M. A.) third; time, 29.5.
400-yard dash—Won by Lane (L. H.), S. Patterson (B. H. S.) second, McNeil (C. S. M. A.) third; time, 1:22.4.
800 yards—Won by Lane (L. H. S.), McNeil (C. S. M. A.) second; time, 1:40.2.
1200-yard relay race—Won by Lowell, Lick second and Berkeley third; time, 2:13.
100-yard handicap for Olympic Club members—Won by Hyman, McNeil second and Pomeroy third; time, 1:13.

Piver Wins From Billy Knowles

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 28.—Billy Knowles of Sebastopol was knocked out in the third round of his fight with Arthur Piver here last Saturday night. The fight took place before the Duncan Mills Athletic Club. Piver was a bit over weight and Knowles would not enter the ring until he was assured of 50 per cent of the receipts, win, lose or draw. Rather than disappoint the large crowd Piver consented to being held up and went on. He won easily in the third round.

Vallejo Team Loses a Game

VALLEJO, Oct. 28.—The Vallejo High School football team went to Woodland last Saturday and went down to defeat before the high school team of that place by a score of 12 to 6.
